DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. The applicant has added new claims 44-47. These claims appear to be readable on the elected embodiment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 4, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 15, 16, 19, 25, 27, 28, 32, 35-37, 39, 41 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Arguin et al., U. S. Patent 5,890,603.
4. With respect to claim 1, Arguin teaches a frame engageable with the display board 10 comprising a first projection defining a first and second projection defining a first and second surface positioned to face one another, wherein the first and second surfaces define a gap 14 dimensioned to receive and hold a sheet 16. The frame is adapted to surround a display board in the form of a monitor.

5. With respect to claim 4, Arguin teaches the body comprising an aperture (not labeled) dimensioned to receive at least a portion of the display board 10. (See figure 4)
6. With respect to claim 6, Arguin teaches the first projection is shorter than the second projection. (See figure 2A).
7. With respect to claim 7, Arguin teaches the body 12 of the frame defines a longitudinal direction and a transverse direction substantially perpendicular to the longitudinal direction, and wherein the gap 14 comprises a shape that changes in the transverse direction. (See figure 2I).
8. With respect to claim 8, Arguin teaches the body 12 of frame defines a longitudinal direction, and wherein the gap 14 is defined by at least one longitudinally-extending groove and at least one longitudinally-extending protrusion. (See figure 2A, 2B, 2H, 2D).
9. With respect to claim 10, Arguin teaches one protrusion has a generally curved cross-section. (See figures 2B and 2H).
10. With respect to claim 11, Arguin teaches the gap 14 comprises a generally U-shaped cross-section.
11. With respect to claim 13, Arguin teaches the gap, in cross-section, comprises a first curve in a first direction and a second curve in a second direction, the second direction being different from the first direction. (See figure 2B and 2E).

12. With respect to claim 14, Arguin teaches the gap 14, in cross-section, goes through a first distance in a first direction and a second distance in a second direction, the second direction being different from the first direction. (See figure 2A, 2B, 2D, 2E, and 2I).

13. With respect to claim 15, Arguin teaches the gap 14, in cross-section, comprises a first portion of increasing thickness, a second portion of decreasing thickness, and a third portion of increasing thickness. (See figure 2H).

14. With respect to claim 16, Arguin teaches the first surface is substantially parallel to the second surface. (See figure 2).

15. With respect to claims 30, and 41, Arguin teaches the first and second surface parallel. (See figure 2).

16. With respect to claim 28, Arguin teaches a gap with a first thick portion, a second thin portion, and a third thick portion. (See figure 2H).

17. With respect to claim 32, Arguin teaches the gap 14, in cross-section, goes through a first distance in a first direction and a second distance in a second direction, the second direction being different from the first direction. (See figure 2A, 2B, 2D, 2E, and 2I).

18. With respect to claim 35-37, 39, 41 and 43, Arguin teaches a frame surround a support such as a computer monitor, wherein the frame has a first portion and a second portion defining a gap, wherein the gap is adapted to hold a sheet 16. The monitor corresponds to the display board.

19. Claims 1, 4, 6, 7, 11, 19, 20, 22, 25, 27, 30, 35-37, 39, 41, 43-45 and 47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pollack, U. S. Patent 4,986,013.

20. With respect to claims 1, 19, 35, 44, and 45, Pollack teaches a display board 20 and a frame 30,40 coupled to the display board, the frame defining a gap 38 and 40 dimensioned to receive and hold a sheet.

21. With respect to claim 6, Figures 12-14 show the projection 33' shorter than the projection 36' and 37'.

22. With respect to claim 20, Pollack teaches the display board 20 comprises marker board.

23. With respect to claim 25, 36, 37, Polack teaches the frame 30,40 includes a body comprising a first portion 36 and 37 and a second portion 33, the first and second portions being engageable through web 34 at one end of the body and separated by the gap 38 and 39 at an opposite end of the body.

24. With respect to claim 27, Pollack teaches the frame 30,40 comprising a central aperture, and wherein at least a portion of the display board 20 is positioned. (See figure 1).

25. Claims 19, 20, 25, 27, 29, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Baudino, U. S. Patent 5,743,414.

26. With respect to claim 19, Baudino teaches a display board 11 and a frame 23 coupled to the display board, the frame defining a gap 34 dimensioned to receive and hold a sheet.

27. With respect to claim 20, Baudino teaches the display board 11 comprises at least one of a dry erase board. (See column 3, line 60).

28. With respect to claim 25, Baudino teaches the frame 23 includes a body comprising a first portion 32 and a second portion 33, the first and second portions being engageable through 26 at one end of the body and separated by the gap 34 at an opposite end of the body.

29. With respect to claim 27, Baudino teaches the frame 23 comprising an aperture, and wherein at least a portion of the display board is positioned in the aperture. (See figure 1).

30. With respect to claim 29, Baudino teaches the frame defining a longitudinal direction, and wherein the gap is defined by at least one longitudinally-extending groove and at least one longitudinally-extending protrusion. (See figure 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

31. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

32. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baudino, U. S. Patent 5,743,414 in view of Meccia et al., U. S. Patent 6,767,591. Meccia teaches a dry erase board with a UV coating. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time this invention was made to construct the to provide the dry erase board taught by Baudino with a UV coating as taught by Meccia to enhance the durability of the board.

33. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Arguin. Since Arguin does not disclose that a protrusion with a triangular cross-section solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose, it appear that a protrusion with a round cross-section as taught by Arguin would perform equally well in receiving and retaining a sheet.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 3, 5, 22-24, 26, 38, 40, and 46 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

34. Applicant's arguments filed May 12, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

35. The applicant argues that Arguin does not teach a frame for a display board as recited in claim 1. The examiner contends that claim 1 does not positively recite a display board in combination with the frame. The preamble of the claim recites [a] frame for a display board. Nevertheless, since the applicant does not positively recite board or specific structure of the board, the examiner contends that the monitor 10 of Arguin corresponds to the display board. With this position, the examiner has now rejected claims 19, 25, 27, 28, 32, 35-37, 39, 41 and 43 as being anticipated by Arguin.

36. With respect to the applicant argument of claims 19, 20, 25, 27, and 29 as being anticipated by Baudino, the applicant argues that the gap of the frame taught by Baudino is not dimensioned to receive and hold a sheet. Again, the examiner points out that the sheet is not positively recited in combination with the frame. The examiner contends that a sheet such as a thick cardboard or poster type could be dimension such that it will be retained and held within the gap of the frame.

37. The rejection of claims 23, 24 28, 30, 32, 35-37, 39-41 and 43 as being unpatentable over Baudino in view of Arguin has been withdrawn.
